Kombuchery

„With Klingele we have found the right partner who understands what our bottle packaging needs to accomplish and adapts to us - and who delivers small packaging quantities as well as large ones in outstanding quality. As a fast-growing start-up, we feel we are in very good hands.“

Maximilian Seedorf, CEO Kombuchery

Brief Customer Info

Kombuchery produces fermented organic tea drinks from kombucha tea, fresh fruit and vegetables in small bottlings.

Task

A stable, unbreakable and environmentally friendly packaging was sought for shipping single bottles and several bottles.

Solution

A compartment inside the outer packaging protects the bottles during transport. The compartment can be adapted to the desired number of bottles.
